

Best Practice 2

Title of the best practice: COVID Care Isolation CENTRE

Objectives of the Practice:

The corona virus is very dangerous and deadly which has no specific medicine. To separate the patients from their contacts, providing Isolation and quarantine centre for them has become need of the hour. To prevent the transmission of the disease, patients are quarantined in their houses. Quarantine is the separation which restricts the movements or activities of the patients.

The Context:

The quarantine for Covid patients has become inevitable to reduce transmission by separating contacts from their family members and local community. The medical staff can monitor the health conditions of the patients at one special place from time to time.

The Practice:

The College has provided isolation and quarantine centre for Corona patients in and around Penugonda village during Covid-19 pandemic. From 2020 to November 2020 the institution has provided the isolation and quarantine facilitation. For this purpose, the boys' hostel and ladies' hostel were nominated with full facility of boarding and lodging arrangements. Male and female patients were separately isolated. Two staff members of the college were kept for their service round the clock.

Evidence of Success:

The local people in and around Penugonda availed themselves of the services in the quarantine centre. Nearly 200 members were accommodated in the centre. There were old, young and children among them. They were all facilitated with separate rooms with attached washrooms.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required:

The college remains closed and the important activities were operated from outside. Some Non-teaching staff of the college have become victims of the infection. The college administration faced difficulty in accommodating a large number of patients.
